Barbara Hughes Sullivan, Executive Director

Dear Village Members, Friends and Supporters!

With summer buzzing by rapidly, we are working hard at VtVN to host a great National Village Conference! A lot of moving parts! I thought I would outline some of the events, speakers and sessions that are on the upcoming conference agenda.

First of all, we have amazing breakout sessions selected from a tremendous amount of proposals. We have sessions on mentor programs, partnership programs, grant writing, transportation, caregiving, wellness, fundraising, technology, leadership transitions and so much more! We are excited to introduce Pazit Aviv, who is the Village coordinator for Montgomery County, MD, who will facilitate a wonderful Village 101 pre-conference on Wednesday morning.

Speakers! Wow, what a line up! We are thrilled to have Marc Freedman, CEO of Encore.org as our dinner keynote speaker. Our own Kate Hoepke, ED of San Francisco Village, will jumpstart the conference. Kerry Burnight, renowned Gerontologist is back! Bob Blancato will talk on the state of advocacy in aging.
And finally, two AARP keynotes, the first from Lisa Marsh Ryerson, the president of the AARP foundation and innovative leader and advocate for those less fortunate, and the last keynote will be from Danielle Arigoni who will talk about livable communities and the Village movement.

A big shout-out to our Sponsors! We have some great exhibitors and sponsors this year.
Be sure to stop by each table and say hello!
There are a lot of new technology exhibitors to help our Villages run more smoothly and to support their own members to age in place. We are also hosting a Technology Showcase event this year! Several of our vendors have produced a short video on their technology product, which we will run throughout the course of the conference. Then our conference participants will get to vote on the Most Innovative Technology, Most Wanted Technology and the most Likely to Buy.

The agenda is almost finalized. This year, we scheduled everything in the hotel. Our schedule starts on Wednesday with the opening remarks. A casual dinner will host our first speaker, Marc Freedman, then followed by a dessert bar and regional networking. We also included this year a networking reception for our annual dine arounds. There will be a sign-up sheet listing all the dine arounds available at the registration table.

We are excited to see everyone and hope you enjoy the conference this year! More details to follow!

Happy Labor Day! Enjoy the last of the summer daze.

Best,

Barbara H. Sullivan

A Collaborative Relationship with Local Hospital

The Village in Howard (TVIH) is located in Howard County, Maryland, which is a mixture of urban and rural populations, totaling approximately 325,000. Approximately 13 percent of the county's residents are 65 or older, and is expected to grow significantly by 2040. The county created healthy aging initiatives a few years ago and TVIH investigated how to engage in and benefit from this movement for their members. Howard County General Hospital, a member of Johns Hopkins Medicine, has grown in size and commitment to improving the health of all members of the community, including the aging population. Toward this end, they developed programs and committees that engaged the Office on Aging and Independence (OAI) and the Howard County Local Health Improvement Coalition (HCLHIC). TVIH formed a "Healthy Aging Workgroup" to explore potential collaborations between organizations.

They followed these steps:

- 1) Identify, in writing, the vision/mission/goals of the Workgroup, working closely with the TVIH Board;
- 2) Contact via formal letter, the hospital Chief Administrator and the VP of Population Health who oversee in-hospital and outreach efforts for the elderly, and explain purpose;
- 3) Follow-up with formal correspondence with the Director of the actual programs;
- 4) Arrange a meeting onsite at TVIH office including the major leaders of the hospital programs and the Workgroup and TVIH Board representatives, with the agenda of exploring mutual goals and opportunities for engagement;
- 5) Include in the agenda, questions and program descriptions to further the dialogue (e.g., How can we work together toward healthy aging? Describe TVIH programs that could help the hospital's efforts);

6) Identify hospital committees on which TVIH can be represented;

7) Identify communication mechanisms for engaging TVIH members with the information available at the hospital; the Workgroup uses TVIH Forum to post hospital announcements and opportunities;

8) Summarize meeting minutes and share, with follow-up on action items;

9) Identify hospital communication channels for healthcare improvement (including public relations at the hospital).

TVIH's Healthy Aging Workgroup has used this template in its outreach efforts with the OAI and HCLHIC. Members represent TVIH on various committees and these organizations provide classes and healthy aging programs either directly at TVIH's office or in a county location. They have also become a host organization for the county's effort to complete and submit into the hospital database advance directives of the population. This is a collaborative relationship with the county hospital where both organizations benefit!

The Village in Howard created a mutually beneficial relationship with Howard County General Hospital, the Office on Aging and Independence and the Howard County Local Health Improvement Coalition.
